

Excellent opportunity for an Engineer with a broad business vision and aspiration

OUR CLIENT

StoneFund 1 & 2 are the investment organizations of the Colruyt family. StoneFund1 was started in 2000 and has currently grown to a well filled investment portfolio and is 'fully invested'. StoneFund2 was founded in 2006 with a clear focus on "cleantech-industry" and "new materials", especially for companies who found the ideal balance between man, economy and ecology. The fund already has a few clearly selected participations and has the ambition to expand this substantially.

Due to their growth – to expand the team of StoneFund2 in Erpe-Mere - we are currently looking for a (m/f):

Investment Manager

YOUR FUNCTION

- As Investment Manager you have an important share in the further expansion and management of the portfolio of companies;
 - Starting from a first screening of potential participations, you evaluate organizations and their activities for technical feasibility, market value and financial perspectives;
 - Based on your technical background you are able to make a quick and in-depth estimation of the technological products/processes of new companies and thus bring an important added value to the team;

- Based on thorough conversations with the founders and the management you try to estimate whether or not their company vision and culture corresponds to the values of StoneFund;
- In a next phase of maturity of the investment company you will be responsible for the management of the portfolio sometimes as member of the Board of Directors of the companies;
- You cooperate in a small and enthusiastic team with a large amount of autonomy.

YOUR PROFILE

- You obtained a Master degree as Engineer (Bio-engineer, Civil Engineer, Industrial Engineer,...); an additional MBA is a plus;
 - You have a few years of experience in an operational/technical function in one of the following sectors: environment, chemistry, new materials, energy,... and want to look at upcoming companies with a broader vision;
 - Your technical background, knowledge and experience brings an important added value to the team;
 - Based on your team skills and motivation you actively participate to the current group dynamics of StoneFund2;
 - You are prepared to invest in getting to know the world of investment funds, venture capital,...;
 - Finally, you have excellent analytical and communicative skills, both in English and in Dutch.

OUR OFFER

- A unique chance to get to know the world of investment funds and all its linked aspects from a professional and upright organization;
- An autonomous and varied position with responsibility in a small, but extremely motivated and dynamic team;
- An attractive salary package in correspondence with your background and experience.
